Something went wrong. Wait a moment and try again. Amongst all the high tier responsibilities that the Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) carries out, compiling question papers for the final board examination is one of the most consequential one. However, with something so crucial comes stress to perform your best, which is why CBSE also offers Sample Papers – these question papers are modelled after the final examination question papers from previous and upcoming years.
External Resources
While CBSE sample papers are self-sufficient, if a student wants more such question papers for practise while still staying close to the original pattern, they can find Model Test Papers at the end of their Xamidea's copy.
Suggested by the name, Model Test Papers mirror CBSE's own sample papers and are produced by the same team of subject pundits who compile the rest of our infamous guidebook. Our company standard is to stay updated and offer the best solutions, which is why our solutions will help you be on-point and our overall content will help you redeem the most out of the same resource.
To add to your preparatory zeal, Xamidea also has an app now where students can find complete e-books for all the subjects of their respective grade. Download our app to get your e-copy and try it for free for the first 7 days!
Sectioned below are the subject-wise CBSE sample papers for the students. Grades 10 and 12 mark the higher secondary level of a student's life. These two grades derive their significance from the life-changing paths that every student is introduced to here. Naturally, the pressure is on to make the right decisions and perform your best.
Our sample paper solutions are useful simply because of the value they offer. Since our team of subject-experts formulate these solutions, they are error-free and thorough. So our suggestion to you is to use them wisely to level up your preparatory spirits!
Choose Subjects
One of the proper ways to use CBSE sample papers is to use them to time and measure your performance. By solving these question papers, students can get used to the pattern of the examination and try to improve their performance time as per the sections. Once indulged, students will also realise which topic they need to review or practice again. Looking at your solved paper will give you a second person's perspective on how you've performed and which aspects could use some improvement.
Learn also which type of questions are posed and which topics recur almost every year due to their weightage and importance. Most importantly, these papers are compiled keeping the marking scheme in mind as well. Sounds useful right?
Main board exams are conducted twice during a student's life. Class 10th and 12th are marked important for this particular reason only. Boards in class 10th are used to segregate students into the stream of their choice. While the student's choice is considered primary, board results ensure that every student gets into the stream that they have the aptitude for.
Similarly, the class 12th examination offers a final chance to every student at the life they desire and deserve. The board results achieved here are used for admission purposes for further studies, i.e. Bachelors of their choice.
To ensure fairness, a national standard is followed so every student gets a genuine chance and no one feels wronged.
Yes, NCERT is enough when preparing for board examinations. However, it is important not to get too confident about it. What makes boards difficult is the amount of syllabus to be learned and the time crunch while writing the paper. Practice writing the exam at home so you're ready with the concepts when the real exam comes around.
You can visit CBSE's official website at cbse.gov.in, there you can find latest updates regarding the CBSE boards.
We don't suggest that. CBSE makes important upgrades like the omission of chapters or topics. If you cannot afford a physical copy during these trying times, simply go to NCERT's website and avail pdfs for every coursebook available for free.
For the students who are unsatisfied with their compiled result for the academic year 2020-21, there is an option to appear for a proper board examination later whenever the circumstances allow. For those examinations, CBSE Sample Paper questions will still be important for they were compiled with the year 2020-21's finals in mind. Even for the years ahead, when the world will heal again and normalcy will return, questions on the 2021 Sample Papers will be relevant to the upcoming examinations.
Yes, the paper might seem lengthy due to the expectation to perform well but the time is the same for every student. In such a situation, those who stand out do so because they are prepared for just the situation. CBSE Sample Papers, which are easily accessible, provide the means for practise to every student. This practise helps them feel confident about their ability to perform while also honing it.
